

Solynta is an innovative technology driven company that wants to turn the world food supply upside down with its hybrid potato. Based on innovative research and breeding technologies, we developed diploid potato varieties with true potato seed as the starting material. www.solynta.com

Our mission is to realize a sustainable change in the world food supply with our innovative hybrid potato. The true potato seeds that we produce need to be tested and shipped to our customers all around the world. Therefore we are looking for you!

Supply Chain Assistant

(32 – 40 hours)

YOUR ROLE

In your role as a Supply Chain Assistant you will be responsible for all logistics of our true potato seeds. You make sure our customers will receive their orders of excellent quality seeds in time. Picking, packing and handling the shipping documents will be your main activities. You should have excellent organisational skills to make sure the administration and ERP system are always up to date.

Besides handling the logistics, you will also be involved in executing and assessing seed germination tests. In order to upgrade our seed quality, you will support the development of seed processing protocols. This requires a keen eye on details and quality management aspects.

In addition, you will offer support to the general activities of the supply chain team when needed.

REQUIREMENTS

- Essential is an open mind and eagerness to learn and develop along with our organization
- MBO+ level (or starting HBO) with a preferred affinity for protocol development and data analysis support
- 0-5 years professional work experience
- English communication and reporting skills
- Independent and very accurate work attitude; you have a strong focus and patience to work on small (seed) details
- Hands on work experience in the field or greenhouse is a pre
- Open communication and easy to handle feedback
- Able to work efficiently in a dynamic start-up environment where every day brings new challenges.

WE OFFER

- A challenging job with many opportunities for growth, personal development and initiative
- A start-up and international environment
- A competitive salary, depending on work experience and education

- A temporary contract with the intention for a permanent position

If you are motivated to strengthen the Supply Chain team, you are invited to send your motivation plus CV per email to: info@solynta.com.

For more information about the content of this position, please contact Reinout Pennings (Supply Chain Manager), phone: 06-33580832. For questions about the procedure you can contact Susanne Knoops (HR Manager), phone: 06-18477085.